ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A boat trailer having an extendable and retractable tongue. While leaving the trailer connected to the vehicle, a towing pin is pulled and a safety latch is unlocked and the tongue extension is extended until the safety latch pin catches holes for the extended position and the towing pin is reinstalled in already aligned holes. To retract the extension while leaving the trailer connected to the vehicle, the towing pin is pulled out and the safety latch is unlocked and the tongue extension is retracted until the safety latch pin catches holes for the retracted position and the towing pin is reinstalled in already aligned holes.
